

ISGP University Graduate Seminar Application Form – 2020

Please fill out this form electronically and send it as an email attachment to isgp@bahai.org.au (you may need the latest version of Adobe Reader). If you do not receive an email confirmation noting receipt of your application within two weeks of submitting it, please re-send it. Because of the high number of applicants and limited spaces available, selection will be made within a matrix that maximizes the diversity of the participants. Preference will be given to participants who are under 35 years old and who have completed their bachelor's degree at least one year prior to the seminar. Applications will not be considered after 15 May 2020.

What is your understanding of the purpose of the seminar you are applying for? Name a few of the reasons that you are interested in participating in this seminar.

As stated in the description of the program, by offering this seminar the Institute for Studies in Global Prosperity hopes to create a space where participants can explore ways in which they can participate more effectively in the discourses of society. What is your understanding of the phrase “discourses of society” as it is being used by the Bahá'í community? List a few examples of situations where you have had the opportunity to participate in a discourse in this manner.

As you know, the title of this seminar is “Discourse and Social Transformation: Achieving Coherence.” What is your understanding of social transformation? In a few sentences, describe the activities in which you are engaged in terms of social transformation.
